

JOIN FRIENDS OF TRAINWRECK!

Trainwreck Productions, Dubuque's summer theatre organization, is back for its second season! Providing increased outlets for Dubuque-area theatre artists, Trainwreck Productions is an avant garde organization with a focus on producing superior quality, meaningful, and unique theatre. Trainwreck Productions strives to be a bold statement in theatre in both the material the produced and the way it is performed. We are contacting you because you have a reputation, either as a member of the Dubuque Community and/or a supporter of the arts.

Tentatively, we will open our season this May with an outdoor production of Edward Albee's The Zoo Story, a free show (donations accepted) featuring two actors who will alternate roles with each performance. Next is Ayn Rand's Night of January 16th; audiences will play the jury and determine the verdict and outcome of the play. In Stephen Sondheim's musical Assassins, a murderous carnival game sets-up portrayals of individuals whom attempted assassinations of the Presidents of the United States. Trainwreck will also be producing the World Premiere of the new musical Park in Pennsylvania, a romantic comedy featuring music by Dubuque native, Kevin Duggan. Also planned for our season, pending fundraising, is a musical so fresh off Broadway, we're not allowed to tell you what it is yet!

If you would like to support us and our season, please consider joining our Friends of Trainwreck campaign! Through a one-time monetary contribution, Friends of Trainwreck receive complementary tickets, usable at any and all of our ticketed shows for summer 2010, as well as recognition for their support at various contribution levels on our website and season programs.
